

Jodie Atkinson Superwoman

Student life is busy enough with assignments and exams, add to that having six children (three at home) and working part time and we begin to have visions of someone in a superwoman costume. Jodie Atkinson has managed to not only to manage a busy personal life but to be the recipient of three awards in her final semester.

Jodie was awarded:

- In the Top 100 Academic Students for ECU;
- Special Commendation - Vice Chancellor's Award for Student Engagement;
- Golden Key International Honour Society - City of Joondalup Award for Community Service. The City of Joondalup Award for Community Service is presented to a Golden Key member living, studying or working in the City of Joondalup that is deemed the most outstanding contributor to the community.

So what keeps Jodie busy in her superwoman role?

Currently Jodie is the President of the Student Nurses Association and Coordinator of the Graduation Ball Committee. Volunteering as a Student Ambassador for Nursing at ECU Jodie assists with open days, career nights and orientation days. Also is a member of a group running the Student Nurse Association second hand book stall, in what has since become an annual event to be held on orientation day in first semester.

Next year Jodie will be returning to ECU to undertake the Graduate Diploma of Midwifery.
